R.J. O'Brien Limited Becomes Member of London Metal Exchange

LONDON, July 23, 2015 – Chicago-based R.J. O'Brien & Associates (RJO), the oldest and largest independent futures brokerage and clearing firm in the United States, today announced that its London-based affiliate R.J. O'Brien Limited (RJO Limited) was just approved as a clearing member of the London Metal Exchange (LME).

RJO Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Gerald F. Corcoran said: "Joining the London Metal Exchange as a Category 2 member is the latest in a series of long-term growth initiatives for RJO in Europe. We've made significant investments in infrastructure and talented professionals as we continue to enhance our offerings and serve a growing client base."

David Mudie, Chief Executive Officer of R.J. O'Brien in Europe said: "We're delighted to join LME as a CAT 2 member. Offering direct access to base metals at LME, through both voice and electronic execution, is an important part of our strategic expansion as we further round out our product coverage and ensure we are responsive to evolving client needs globally."
