

OTC Structured Products

Satisfy your specific risk-management goals with customized OTC structured products from R.J. O'Brien and our affiliate RJO Financial.

Commercial hedgers work directly with our experienced OTC team. Using the best in proprietary pricing technology, the team analyzes the client's needs and creates a variety of strategies to achieve superior results.

RJO is bringing a fresh perspective to the OTC structured products industry. We strive to find the best fitting products for you to exceed your risk management expectations.

STRUCTURED PRODUCTS

- Averaging Structures
- Accumulating Structures
- Knock-In and Knock-Out Structures
- Binary Structures
- Non Double-Up Structures

COMMODITIES

- Corn
- Soybean Complex
- Wheat
- KC Wheat
- Cotton
- Sugar
- Coffee

Our exemplary team's individual skills ranges from extensive marketplace knowledge to cutting edge technological prowess. This diversity of experience allows the RJO OTC team to bring a competitive edge to the OTC structured products industry which cannot be matched.

RISK MANAGEMENT THROUGH STRUCTURED PRODUCTS

OTC structured products are bilateral contracts between two counterparties, which allows you to customize the products to your business needs. This includes custom contract expirations, cash settlements, barriers, binary payoffs, etc. These products can produce a specific payoff profile to help accomplish your business' risk management goals. The RJ O'Brien OTC Desk is flexible, allowing you to specify a payoff you wish to achieve; from there, we go to the drawing board and build a unique structure to match the desired outcome as closely as possible.

Structured products allow you to transfer your marketplace risks. You can achieve a desired payout and establish your risk profile. Structured products can be utilized to enhance a market position, allowing you to sell above or buy below current futures market price. The primary goal of these products should be to effectively manage your risk. Our products help you shift your focus to managing your business.

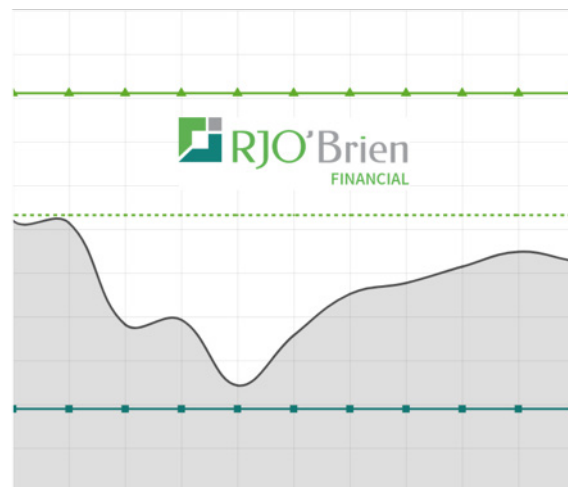

Our cutting edge technology, which we offer to our clients, is the first of its kind in the market. Our web-based application enables you to place orders, track quotes in real-time, and monitor your structured products successfully through their entire lifecycle. Our front-to-back application streamlines your experience with structured products. The application was built in-house by the OTC team and will continue to be enhanced to meet client needs.

YOUR GOALS MATCH OURS

RJO is bringing a fresh perspective to the OTC structured products industry with a client-centric approach to the market. We strive to accomplish this through excellent customer service, flexible and cutting-edge technology, and new risk management perspectives. Please contact us to experience all that we have to offer and give us the opportunity to earn your business.

“
SUCCESS
THROUGH EFFECTIVE
RISK MANAGEMENT
”

CONTACT US

Melisa Culbertson
Executive Director, OTC Structured Products
mculberston@rjobrien.com
312-373-4829